A trusted advisor can be one of the key ingredients for any company’s success. Working with an expert who possesses the right skill set can actually help set growth in motion for businesses in virtually any industry.

Demand for such expertise can be competitive. Fortunately, Los Angeles is home to a growing group of such established experts – and the numbers of young people training to become such professionals are up. In our region there is no shortage of excellent advisors, many of whom happen to be in their 40s.

Listed alphabetically in this section, you’ll find a selection of Los Angeles’ leading professionals in their 40s, along with some insights about their careers, attributes and accomplishments.

Methodology: The professionals featured in these pages did not pay to be included. Their profiles were drawn from nomination materials submitted to the Los Angeles Business Journal. Those selected for inclusion were reviewed by the editorial department and chosen based on a demonstration of impact made on the profession and on the Los Angeles community.
ALEXIS ALONZO
Former
Holland & Knight LLP

While one might sum up Alexis Reeves Alonzo’s career on paper by saying she’s a “real estate attorney” that would tremendously understate the niche area of real estate law that comprises the majority of her practice: an alternative land finance vehicle called land banking. Alonzo represents the country’s premier land bankers in their acquisition, financing and sales of residential housing lots throughout the United States. To date, she has handled more than $2 billion worth of these transactions. She also represents top homebuilders and residential lot developers in the acquisition and sale of neighborhoods and lots located within residential communities throughout the United States. Alonzo recently represented a New York-based financial services and credit management firm in providing approximately $500 million of land banking financing for the development of more than 5,000 homes for national homebuilders.

SHIVA AMINIAN
Former
Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP

Brought in Akin Gump’s Los Angeles office, partner Shiva Aminian is an established leader in the firm’s renowned international trade practice and throughout the firm is known for playing leading roles in developing innovative, creative client solutions. Aminian co-heads Akin Gump’s firmwide technology industry initiative, having relocated from Washington, D.C. to California to assist with furthering the firm’s strength and depth across the technology industry.

As part of her practice, Aminian focuses on highly complex regulatory matters regarding U.S. export controls, sanctions and trade policy, with a particular emphasis on U.S.-China relations. Her creative approach to her practice has been instrumental in growing and fostering relationships with some of the firm’s top clients, who often rely on her proven ability to dissect and solve problems and devise and execute effective action plans for their most sensitive matters.

SANTIAGO ARANA
Principal
The Agency

Ranked the #6 real estate agent in the country, Santiago Arana has closed billions of dollars of real estate across Los Angeles, taking his place among the most distinguished professionals in the industry. Part of a power trio that includes Billy Rose and Mauricio Umansky, Santiago joined The Agency in 2014 as Principal and Partner, specializing in high-end residential real estate and new construction across the region’s most coveted neighborhoods. Arana spearheaded the company’s Westside expansion as managing partner of the Brentwood and Pacific Palisades offices. He has closed over $4 billion in real estate, netting nearly $2.5 billion in sales volume from 2017-2021.

No stranger to representing high-profile clients such as Lady Gaga, Lebron James, Larry David, Anthony Hopkins, and Alessandra Ambrosio, among others, Arana carefully tailors his marketing strategies to fit each individual property while protecting client privacy.

JESSICA BABBRICK
Shareholder / Director
Weinstock Manville

Jessica Babbrick applies a broad background in litigation to resolve disputes involving trusts, estates, probate and conservatorships. She represents beneficiaries, fiduciaries and financial and charitable institutions in a wide variety of contested trust and probate matters. She is a fervent advocate for her clients and works closely with them to efficiently and effectively resolve claims concerning breach of fiduciary duty, undue influence, lack of capacity and the validity of wills and trusts. She has served as chair of the Beverly Hills Bar Association Trusts and Estate Executive Committee. She puts her client’s needs first and serves as a mentor to associates at the firm.

Recent matters of Babrick’s include representing the widow of a movie producer and former movie studio CEO, the children from a first marriage against their late father’s second wife in an anti-SLAPP matter involving $50-60 million; and the former owner of a famed California winery.

MATTHEW BENEDETTO
Former
WilmerHale

Matthew Benedetto is a litigation partner at WilmerHale’s Los Angeles office with over ten years of experience representing clients in complex civil, criminal and regulatory matters, often involving crisis management and public policy responses. Benedetto has extensive experience representing pharmaceutical companies, health care companies and financial institutions in both federal and state False Claims Act (FCA) and whistleblower actions. In the healthcare space, he has unique experience litigating California’s Insurance Fraud Prevention Act, a qui tam statute in the Insurance Code, including arguing before the California Court of Appeal.

Benedetto is a national thought leader on FCA issues, speaking and publishing widely on the topic, most recently on FCA risks posed by the federal government’s response to COVID-19 via the CARES Act. Benedetto also represents clients facing a range of challenges outside of whistleblower actions. Benedetto also serves on WilmerHale’s Pro Bono and Public Service Committee and West Coast Diversity Committee.

BRIAN J. BERGMAN
Managing Shareholder
BDG Law Group

Brian J. Bergman, shareholder at BDG Law Group, is highly regarded for his work in the areas of eminent domain, inverse condemnation, and environmental litigation for public entities. He has a demonstrated track record of obtaining superior results for clients on large, complex public works projects, including extensive transportation projects throughout California.

Bergman and the firm recently represented Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (LA Metro) in eminent domain matters in conjunction with the Purple Line Extension. The case involved complicated environmental contamination issues associated with the taking of a parcel for use as a maintenance yard. BDG was able to negotiate a multi-million-dollar reduction in the value of the property prior to trial. Bergman is also representing the Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority in eminent domain proceedings for a BART extension project, including multiple takings necessary for the planned Downtown San Jose BART station.

Leaders of Influence: Thriving in their 40s
—Los Angeles Business Journal
AMY CHURAN
Partner
Robins Kaplan LLP

When catastrophic events lead to contractable insurance disputes and novel coverage issues, the world’s leading insurers look to Amy Churan to defend and protect their interests. Churan deals daily with nine-figure claims and such triggering events as COVID-19, wildfires, mudslides, hurricanes, building collapses, tsunamis, and earthquakes. She also handles builders risk supply chain disruption and business interruption claims.

Most recently, Churan has defended an abundance of complex disputes involving the pandemic’s uncharted territory in business interruption coverage. Her clients include underwriters of Lloyd’s, Liberty Mutual, FM Global and others. These preeminent insurers view Churan as their trusted go-to counsel because she helps them preserve relationships with their insureds while diligently litigating their claims. Known for a deep understanding of property insurance coverage and litigation, and ingeniously regulated Californa bad faith claims, Churan excels at marshaling efforts by multiple international insurers who may share liability in high-stakes claims.

LEO BURROLA
CFO
Boutique Recruiting

Leo Burrola was instrumental in the launch of Boutique Recruiting and is a trusted partner and colleague. He is a second-generation Latino and grew up in Serena, Mexico. He graduated from the University of Santa Barbara and obtained his CFO certification while working in the financial industry.

Burrola now carries with him more than 20 years of financial expertise, as well as his strong financial acumen which has helped strategically chart a positive course for the growth of Boutique Recruiting. He is intensely entrepreneurial, keeping up with the changing competitive staffing industry, and oversees finance, IT, HR, and Operations at Boutique. From setting goals and tasks, to establishing deadlines, Burrola has proven time and time again that he can rise to any challenge presented to him. He cares deeply about the success of Boutique Recruiting and all individuals around him. Under Burrola’s leadership, Boutique’s performance has improved significantly.

JAMIE BROOKS
Vice President
CBRE

Jamie Brooks has been a perennial top producer at CBRE for several years and has been involved in several large and notable retail transactions throughout his career. Among his professional accomplishments in recent years is his effectiveness in raising awareness around diversity, equity, and inclusion (DE&I) within the commercial real estate industry, which has long been criticized for its lack of diversity. Brooks has been effective in raising awareness around DE&I by using his platform— as one of the few African American commercial real estate brokers at a major firm in Los Angeles—to highlight career and investment opportunities for people of color.

Brooks leads a dedicated team of retail professionals who specialize in landlord representation, occupier representation, and investment sale transactions. His proven in-market knowledge, financial expertise, and store placement success makes him an invaluable asset to CBRE, and uniquely positions him to assist clients through the entire retail process.

ERIKA CANCHOLA
Partner
Ramo Law PC

In her leadership of production legal for such breakout works as the 2021 Sundance film Wild Indian and 2020 festival films Four Good Days, Arkansas, and Happily, as well as 2019 Golden Globe winner, The Americans and Skydance’s Grace and Frankie and Foundation, Ramo Law Partner Erika Canchola optimizes her clients’ financial, legal and business position in the financing, production and exploitation of their content.

Canchola serves as outside production counsel for Skydance Television and is currently advising several producers of short- and long-form content slated for the theatrical, television and new media platforms. Canchola established Ramo Law PC’s New York office in 2017 and maintains a bicoastal practice. Among her capabilities are film financing, corporate formations, trademark and copyright filings, contract negotiations, production financing and production legal for producers, productions and other clients. She establishes the calm center during fast-paced productions, addressing issues that arise in prep, shooting and post-production.

LARA COMPTON
Member
Mintz

Intuit member Lara Compton is a trusted advisor to clients ranging from traditional health care providers to disrupters of digital health platforms as they navigate the practical and regulatory challenges of health care innovation. Her unique depth of knowledge across HIPAA privacy and other regulatory issues governing the use of data, state and federal fraud and abuse laws, business planning and operational issues has led colleagues to describe her as the “Swiss Army Knife” of health care problem-solving.

Working at the intersection of health care and technology, Compton loves to counsel telemedicine and other digital health clients on business plan strategy and implementation, state-specific telemedicine regulation, corporate practice of medicine, the scope of practice, fee splitting, anti-kickback, reimbursement, and other complex health care regulatory issues. Leveraging her prior-in-house experience at two nonprofit health systems, she also advises health care providers on the incorporation of telehealth and other technology infrastructures.

RENEE DELPHIN-RODRIGUEZ
Partner
Crowell & Moring LLP

Renée Delphin-Rodriguez is a partner in Crowell & Moring’s Los Angeles office and a member of its Corporate and Health Care groups. Her practice focuses on mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, equity and debt financing, corporate governance, and complex commercial agreements. Her clients span a wide range of industries (with a particular emphasis on companies within the health care industry). Delphin-Rodriguez has experience representing special purpose acquisition company (SPAC) sponsors, investors and underwriters in initial public offerings (IPOs) and business combinations (deSPACs). She also advises large corporations on a variety of significant M&A and other strategic corporate transactions. She regularly assists public and private corporations on corporate governance, compliance, and general corporate matters. Delphin-Rodriguez has a unique blend of law firm and in-house experience. She served as assistant general counsel to a Fortune 500 health care company and general counsel to a health care management services organization.

DAVID FARKAS
Of Counsel
DLA Piper

David Farkas is an experienced litigator who has represented a diverse group of clients (from start-ups to Fortune 500 companies) in high-stakes commercial litigation in state and federal courts and arbitrations throughout the country. He assists clients in navigating all stages of litigation, from initial pleadings through trial and appeal. He collaborates with clients, their executives, and in-house counsel to formulate and implement customized litigation strategies that include a tailored approach to their business objectives.

GEORGE C. FATHEREE III
Partner
Sidley Austin LLP

George Fatheree has a distinguished profile and reputation in California – and nationwide – built on his commercial real estate practice, his counseling of artists and museums in arts and culture transactions, his civil rights-focused pro bono work and his extensive civic and community service. Fatheree is regularly engaged in impact-focused pro bono matters such as representing the descendants of Willa and Charles Bruce in the landmark return of the Bruce’s Beach property – a groundbreaking transaction involving the return of property that was wrongfully taken from an African American family almost 100 years ago.

Ashley Fickel is the leader of Dykema’s Financial Services Litigation Practice Group. He represents financial institutions, manufacturers, and a diverse group of businesses in complex legal disputes. Fickel brings extensive trial experience and sound business judgment to defending financial institutions, automotive and other manufacturers, and a diverse group of businesses facing a broad spectrum of consumer claims and class actions. Managing cases from intake through appeal, Fickel leverages his formidable advocacy skills to defend businesses facing individual and class action claims involving consumer financial services, consumer fraud, privacy, product liability, catastrophic injury, and complex business disputes.

RACHEL FISET
Managing Partner
Zweiback, Fiset & Zalduido LLP

Rachel Fiset is an elite attorney with almost 20 years of experience in white collar criminal defense, government investigations, and complex litigation. Her career has spanned a work in Big Law (Quinn Emanuel, Arrent Fox, Alston & Bird) as well as the founding of her own law firm, Zweiback Fiset & Zalduido (ZFZ Law), where she has served as managing partner since 2018.

JONATHAN FITZGERALD
Managing Partner
Equinox Strategy Partners

Jonathan Fitzgerald, managing partner of Equinox Strategy Partners, looks to underserved professionals, untapping their potential to grow revenue, market visibility and their practices. Many of the firms he advises report up to 20 percent increases in revenue within the first year. Fitzgerald’s proprietary approach adapts a Moneyball strategy by recognizing and coaching traditionally overlooked, highly skilled professionals in legal, financial, accounting and professional services firms. Fitzgerald’s personalized business strategies lead clients to discover their own business motivations. He enjoys empowering professionals to succeed and believes that leaders are made not born. In 2015, he established Equinox Strategy Partners to advise professionals nationwide to tap into their own potential to generate revenue. Since that time, he has grown the firm into a multi-million dollar consultancy. He is also a longtime leader of the Legal Marketing Association, and served on the board of advisors of the Legal Sales and Service Organization.

CHAD FITZGERALD
Partner
Kinella Weitzman Iser Kump Holley, LLP

Chad Fitzgerald, partner at preeminent entertainment boutique Kinella Weitzman Iser Kump Holley, is featured regularly in the trades for his representation of A-list clients. Last summer, he was part of the $200 million settlement for “The Walking Dead” television show creator Frank Darabont and his agencyCAA in their long-running, highly publicized profit participation suit against AMC.

In another major profit participation case, Fitzgerald represented the executive producer of the hit television series “Bones” in a lawsuit against 20th Century Fox Television, the Fox network, and affiliated companies. The plaintiff alleged that 20th Century Fox Television cheated him out of his share of profits from the show, and that network executives threatened to cancel the series if he did not accept a lower licensing fee. The arbitration resulted in a $179 million award for the plaintiff. The case settled pending appeal of the award.

Based in Los Angeles, Sean Fulp serves as vice chair and head of office capital markets, U.S. Southwest with Colliers. Throughout his 20-year career, Fulp has completed over $500 transactions worth more than $7 billion in total consideration. Joining Colliers in 2022, Fulp provides private and institutional investors with a full spectrum of capital markets advisory services. He and his team are known for their deep bench of expertise in highly specialized services encompassing three verticals. These focal areas include private capital within the middle market and institutional range, a unique offering of buyer services focused exclusively on buyer representation, and debt and equity. Over the past 24 months, the team has completed over 100 transactions totaling more than $3 billion in total consideration with some of the highest net-worth investors worldwide and the most discerning foundations, pension, and private equity funds.

THOMAS GIORDANO-LASCARI
Commercial & Residential Specialist
The Beverly Hills Estates

Thomas Giordano-Lascari is a partner at Karlin & Peribbs, LLP, a boutique firm in Beverly Hills with a predominantly private client practice. Much of Giordano-Lascari’s work is centered around advising high-net-worth individuals and their closely held businesses in connection with international income tax and estate planning issues. He is skilled at working with global families on structuring and reorganizing their multi-national businesses in order to minimize worldwide taxes.

Giordano-Lascari also helps clients with pre-immigration planning, foreign investment in the United States, U.S. residency planning and management, and expatriate planning. In addition, he is highly regarded for his knowledge in advising foreign fiduciaries regarding foreign trusts with U.S. beneficiaries and grantors, including advice regarding compliance obligations and tax consequences, and advancing U.S. beneficiaries and grantors of foreign trusts of their compliance obligations and the tax consequences of their relationship with the trust.

JON GRAUMAN
Director, Estates Division
The Agency

Residential real estate star Jon Grauman proudly represents a wide variety of properties at varying price points. He and his partner Adam Rosenfeld focus on providing exceptional service, building trust and operating with a culture of integrity. In addition to their excellence in selling properties, the team is involved with Giveback Homes to support The Agency’s mission of creating social change by helping to build homes for deserving families across the globe.

Grauman has more than 18 years of experience as a real estate agent, developer and former mortgage broker, possessing a strong understanding of all facets of the real estate business. Jon has extensive experience in construction and high-end residential development. He has developed multiple properties in Beverly Hills and the Sunset Strip. As a real estate agent, developer and (former) mortgage broker, he understands every facet of the business.

ALEX GRIGORIANS
Founder & Principal, Grigorians Roseinfeld Group
The Agency

Alex Grigorian is a Los Angeles native and highly regarded real estate finance attorney in the real estate and real estate finance transactions. His clients include international, national and local real estate lenders, fund, syndicators, private equity firms, owners and developers who value his counsel on a full range of commercial real estate matters, including acquisitions, dispositions, equity investments, syndications, development, leasing, financing, note purchases, receivables and foreclosures across all asset classes.

Grigorian aims to know every aspect of his clients’ business. In turn, his clients regard him as his trusted advisor. Recently, Grigorian represented an American full-service bank and wealth management company in a series of loans totaling over $100 million to a social impact real estate fund.

BRADLEY HAMBURGER
Partner
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

Brad Hamburger has developed a diverse and highly regarded real estate finance practice representing many subject areas, including class actions, labor and employment, and commercial disputes. He has briefed dozens of appeals, including appeals before the U.S. Supreme Court, the California Supreme Court, and he has argued before both the Ninth Circuit and the California Court of Appeal.

Among Hamburger’s recent achievements has been his work playing a key role in obtaining a significant win for Liberty Mutual in February 2022 before the Ninth Circuit in an appeal concerning an order denying class certification in an automobile insurance action. He led drafting of Liberty’s merits brief. In a unanimous, published opinion, the Ninth Circuit affirmed. He also recently argued a successful opposition to a motion for class certification in a putative wage-hour class action brought against Amazon on behalf of its Prime Now shoppers in California.

MICHELLE GRACI
Commercial & Residential Specialist
The Beverly Hills Estates

It’s easy to talk about Michelle Graci’s rankings within her brokerage, the number of big deals she has had, and her featured rankings in various business publications, but at the end of the day, those are just numbers. Graci believes that her biggest successes have come from the smiles on her clients’ faces and their tendency to come back to her time and time again to help with any and all of their real estate needs.

“Nothing is more satisfying than the look of joy, relief, and happiness, when we walk through the door together,” said Graci. “Any stress they may be feeling due to logistics they give to me that we take that stress and turn it into motivated energy to serve them. We feel invigorated and ready for whatever is next during their real estate transaction making the transition as seamless and easy as possible for the clients.”

JANE HINTON
Commercial & Residential Specialist
The Beverly Hills Estates

As a partner in the Los Angeles office of Hunton Andrews Kurth on the Capital Finance & Real Estate Team, Jane Hinton brings a broad range of experience to commercial real estate and finance transactions, representing investors, financial institutions, investment funds, and other clients in single-asset and portfolio transactions. She focuses on highly structured debt and equity real estate transactions, with responsive transaction management and timely execution. She maintains a nationwide 360-degree practice in real estate law that includes leasing, acquisitions, dispositions, joint ventures and lending throughout the capital stack, such as mortgages, mezzanine and preferred equity financing.

A significant portion of the firm clients Hunton represents are composed of alternative or non-bank lenders, which have found opportunity and transaction volume due to the ongoing market conditions and the evolving regulatory environment. Hinton also works to expand the firm’s real estate client base and support the firm’s existing clients.
MEET MICHELLE GRACI
-Thriving in Her 40s-

What brought you to real estate? I have a great love for the arts and for helping people in general. My father was a contractor and I have been on construction sites of homes for as long as I can remember, funny I even spent some summers spackling nails and sanding down dry wall! So real estate has always been part of my life. After working in production, I am able to combine my love of being creative and assisting people through one of the most important investments of their lives.

What is your mission? My mission is to provide the most professional, informative, ethical, loyal, and dedicated services by putting my clients first. I am committed to making my clients a top priority as well as provide an incomparable level of service.

What stands you apart from other agents? I truly believe people should not be pushed into a sale. Buying or selling a home is a huge decision, so many factors weigh heavy on a transaction. Emotions are running high and it is important to take time to find the perfect home. While this may not sound as aggressive as the approach other agents take, to me, it is more important to support your client. I also offer turnkey services, which includes staging a property to make sure it is in the perfect state before going to the market and many other things after the sale. I don’t sell and tell, and I certainly don’t sell and run.

Why are you thriving in your 40s? Embracing my 40s has been very powerful in my business. My journey has lead me to knowing who I am and what I can bring to the table in every deal I am a part of. Continuing to use my experience and knowledge from years past in this industry to guide my clients in making informed decisions for their most important asset. My work ethic, guidance and relationships I have built throughout the years lead me to having a record-breaking year and receiving the Agent of The Year Award at The Beverly Hills Estates.
HELEN HWANG
Partner
Covington & Burling LLP

Helen Hwang focuses her practice on representing clients through complex and sensitive anti-corruption internal investigations and investigations by government enforcement authorities, such as the DOJ and SEC.

Over the past several years, Hwang has represented a number of high profile clients in significant matters. For example, Hwang served as co-lead counsel for a military parts manufacturer in a DOJ False Claims Act investigation of alleged failure to comply with MIL-SPEC requirements for testing and qualification. She and the Covington team successfully obtained a declination from the DOJ Criminal Division for the Company (ITT, Inc.) and a highly favorable settlement from the DOJ Civil Division. She also co-lead a team of Covington lawyers representing an international gaming and hospitality company in connection with a DOJ investigation of third-party money laundering. She also co-lead a team representing a technology company in connection with a criminal export controls investigation by DOJ.

MATTHEW JANN
Partner
Glaser Wolf Fried Howard Avchen & Shapiro LLP

Matt Jann, a partner and one of the rising stars in Glaser Wolf Fried’s corporate department, maintains a broad transactional practice with a focus on the purchase and sale of businesses and securities. Jann is experienced in all aspects of M&A, from due diligence to the intense negotiation and documentation of some of the industry’s most complex agreements, to the review and preparation of fairness opinions, and finally post-closing dispute resolution. Jann is sought after to serve as counsel on transactions for many well known clients in some of their most significant and disruptive transactions. While his practice is industry agnostic, he has particularly deep experience representing clients in the successful purchase and sale of businesses in MedTech, software, AdTech, consumer goods, manufacturing and oil and gas services. The typical value of Jann’s deals ranges from $10 million to $1.5 billion.

MACK JENKINS
Chief, Public Corruption & Civil Rights Section
United States Attorney’s Office
Central District of California

Mack Jenkins is chief of the Public Corruption and Civil Rights (PCCR) Section at the U.S. Attorney’s Office in Los Angeles, a position he has held since 2017. Most recently, he has been serving as the lead prosecutor into the sprawling public corruption investigation targeting Los Angeles City Hall, dubbed “Operation Casino Loyale.” This investigation and prosecution led to federal racketeering and corruption related charges for former Councilmembers Jose Huizar (pending trial in 2023) and Mitch Englander (convicted), former Deputy Mayor Ray Chan (pending trial in 2023), and multiple major developers and their companies. It also resulted in the convictions of numerous other public officials and lobbyists. Jenkins and his PCCR team also recently oversaw numerous federal investigations resulting from attacks targeting protests related to the murder of George Floyd and Stop Asian Hate. These investigations resulted in civil rights and related charges against individuals threatening and disrupting peaceful protests.

She also handles general corporate matters related to the financing, production, licensing, distribution and use of motion pictures, television programs and other intellectual property assets.

MOLLIE KAISER
Private Wealth Advisor
Strategic View Advisors

During Mollie Kaiser’s 15 years in the finance industry, she has worked in investment management at notable financial institutions such as Bernstein Global Wealth Management and Credit Suisse. While investment management satisfied one aspect of her client’s financial needs, Kaiser found herself interested in a more comprehensive approach, which led her to join Strategic View Advisors in 2016 where she is now a private wealth advisor. In her time at Strategic View Advisors, Kaiser has played a crucial role in shaping the firm, both in terms of procedures and people. She has held a variety of roles and, in each, she has improved operational efficiencies and built out repeatable, documented processes to make sure that, as the firm and clients grow, they are able to hit the ground running. She is always on the lookout for opportunities to provide structure to existing systems.
Among McGimsey’s recent accomplishments has been her work co-leading the S&C team that prevailed in a federal bench trial in which their client, real estate investor Richard Cohen, faced potential damages of $103 million. After an 11-year dispute, the judge ruled in favor of Cohen in January 2022, rejecting claims that he was personally liable for a loan obtained to buy a San Francisco residential apartment complex. McGimsey also obtained summary judgment in full for BP West Coast Products as a co-defendant in two putative antitrust class actions in the Southern District of California.

Marisol Morl advises global clients in a wide range of business enterprises. As co-leader of the firm’s Advertising, Media & Brands Industry Group, Morl counsels clients on consumer protection issues and litigation risks in the advertising, marketing and media sectors. She also partners with clients on brand protection measures and serves as anticompetitive counsel to a well-known US multinational consumer product corporation.

In contentious matters, Morl has represented clients in courts throughout the US and has arbitrated disputes in Europe and Asia. Her experience in complex business litigation includes false advertising and unfair competition consumer class actions, data privacy class actions, location-based services technology, trademark litigation and disputes, business controversies in the food, beverage and cannabis industries, and cross-border commercial disputes. She is a member of the Litigation Section of the American Bar Association and the Hispanic National Bar Association.

Michael Nourmand, president of Nourmand & Associates, is one of the city’s most trusted brokers, leading over 175 agents across three offices. In this year alone, Nourmand was interviewed by top-tier publications where he lent invaluable expertise into hot button issues like NFTs in the real estate market; how COVID evolved buyers’ needs; and the future of the real estate industry. The media recognizes his unique insight and continually goes back to him for his expertise.

Not only does Nourmand oversee the business operations of the agency. He is also a successful realtor, having sold over $100 million in 2021 alone. He represents high net worth clients including many in the entertainment industry as well as prominent businesspeople. He has served as past director of the Beverly Hills Greater Los Angeles Association of Realtors and the California Association of Realtors.
A partner with Irell & Manella LLP for more than a decade, Keith Orso balances his role in firm leadership with a thriving patent law practice in the firm’s litigation and intellectual property groups. Orso is one of three partners on Irell’s Management Committee, which fulfills the function of a managing partner; serves as hiring chair of the firm’s Los Angeles office, and chairs Irell’s Mentoring Committee. Orso is experienced in a range of technologies from pharmaceuticals and biotechnology to computer architecture and communications. He has leveraged his education and background to navigate the highly complex scientific and technological nuances involved in such matters, helping him secure significant victories for clients. He holds a graduate degree in chemical engineering and studied both engineering and economics as an undergraduate. In addition to helping develop younger lawyers at the firm, he co-teaches the “Patent Intensive” course at UCLA School of Law.

CHRISTOPHER PASSMORE
Partner-in-Charge, Encino Office
Withum
(formerly known as Martini Partners, LLC)

Chris Passmore is known as a dynamic business leader, an innovative entrepreneur and an outstanding CPA. His accounting career has been extraordinary. Before joining Martini Partners as a senior accountant in 2006, he spent several years working with publicly and privately held businesses while at PricewaterhouseCoopers. He understands both the accounting firm and client side of the business, having served as a corporate controller for a publicly held manufacturing company. At Martini Partners, he progressed quickly through supervisory and management positions and became the firm’s managing partner before age 40.

Earlier this year, Passmore led the firm through an exceptionally successful merger into a top 25 national accounting firm, and he currently serves as Withum’s partner-in-charge of the firm’s Encino Office. He combines traditional accounting excellence with first-rate client service, alternative business development initiatives and a compassionate management style.

OLGA PETEAN
Founder
Rhodium Compliance & Accounting LLC

In just the last four years, Olga Petean, founder of Rhodium Compliance & Accounting LLC, has helped more than 100 individual clients to achieve clean, reliable, GAAP compliant financials, based on establishing scenarios where they were able to pass audits, obtain significant equity raises, remove potential liabilities by ensuring correct controls, have a good understanding of their expenses and establish proper processes which drive efficiency for accounting and other departments.

The majority of Petean’s clients have needed assistance with multi-year full scale clean ups, all having unique business models, which presented unique accounting challenges. Petean has collaborated and established positive relationships with Big 4 and Big 20 audit firms; has assumed the position of the point of contact and has led her clients through complex individual and consolidated audits and several due diligence processes that resulted in more than $25 million in investments.

ZEV RABEN
Partner
Ramo Law PC

After almost ten years as a litigation attorney, including several years at one of the preeminent entertainment litigation boutiques in Los Angeles, Zev Raben took a meeting with Elsa Ramo and Erika Canchola that would change the trajectory of his legal career. Shortly after that fateful meeting, Raben made the decision to switch paths and become a transactional attorney. In a short amount of time, he went from settling multi-million-dollar entertainment disputes to closing multi-million dollar loans in the independent film space.

Raben currently represents Bank of Hope, BondIt Media Capital, 828 Media Capital, Head Gear Films, SSS Film Capital, and Reserve Entertainment Fund I, closing over $100 million worth of loans for those companies in the last year and a half. He also provided financing and production legal services for Tribeca Film Festival winner and Spirit Award nominee The Novice, and Prisoner’s Daughter.

CHRISTY V. RAYBURN
Partner
Hueston Hennigan LLP

Christy Von der Ahe Rayburn litigates high-profile, high-stakes technology disputes for companies of all sizes, including Amazon, Monster Energy, BlackBerry, ClearOne, and Acorn Technologies. Described by clients as “a fierce advocate” and “intensely brilliant at understanding the detail and complexity of the subject matter, while retaining a clear view of the big issues and impact on strategy,” she has a depth of experience in patent, copyright, and trade secret litigation at every stage.

Rayburn is a force in the courtroom, having recently obtained summary judgment of non-infringement in favor of Amazon against claims for patent infringement brought by serial patent litigant Master-Objects, Inc. She also won two trials and a Federal Circuit appeal in 2021. In May 2021, she won a $25 million trial victory for Acorn Technologies in a patent infringement case against Samsung relating to its semiconductor technology.

Attyre Will Reed has been with Shegerian & Associates for over six years. During his time at the firm, Reed has made a positive impact on his clients’ lives as well as on the firm. He has worked on a variety of multi-plaintiff employment discrimination cases against private and public employers in state and federal courts. This year to date he has recovered over $6.6 million in settlements for employees. His talent and rigor at Shegerian & Associates have allowed him to stand among some of the best employment attorneys.

Reed has stayed in contact with his clients even past their cases settling. His compassion for individuals facing workplace harassment and discrimination by their employers has allowed him to leave a positive impression on all of his clients.

Vedder Price shareholder Jason Reese is a member of the firm’s Finance & Transactions group and is based in the Los Angeles office. He has substantial experience advising both public and private clients in M&A, venture capital, joint ventures and private equity investments. Additionally, he represents corporate entities and portfolio companies and helps his clients navigate complex legal challenges.

Reese is actively involved in the management and expansion of Vedder Price. He was an initial founding partner of the Los Angeles office and is the managing shareholder of the office as well as a member of the Board of Directors of the firm, also serving on a number of important management committees. Since the office opened in 2014, he has helped the firm build a significant private equity focused M&A practice in Southern California and has recently negotiated and closed dozens of transactions for Los Angeles-based private equity funds.

Ariel Robinson has built a thriving law practice by mastering the myriad aspects of any challenge, from complex real estate transactions to sensitive workplace issues involving professionals and their careers. She uses her empathy, intellectual curiosity, and determination to provide solutions resulting in better outcomes. Her efforts and her impact truly enable others to thrive.

In the past 18 months, Robinson has further strengthened her real estate legal practice, frequently handling significant portfolio transactions across a wide range of asset types. These include office and industrial, multifamily, land for residential development, retail and mixed-use projects – many of which include properties in several states. She recently represented an investment firm in its joint venture recap of acquisition of 26 industrial properties located in seven states. She led the effort to negotiate the acquisition documentation and consummate the joint venture and loan assumptions on behalf of the client.

Jonathan Sandler is a results-driven litigator and aggressive advocate for his clients. Companies turn to Sandler for virtually all business-related disputes. His experience as a strategic adviser to companies coupled with his proven capacity to take a case to trial allows companies to make well-informed and astute business decisions. A big-picture thinker and natural relationship builder with a vast network, Sandler is one of the first people his colleagues call for insight on who to go to and to brainstorm next steps in novel situations.

While an accomplished litigator and trial attorney, clients really appreciate Sandler’s breadth of experience and the ability to leverage that knowledge. He has advised and litigated an array of matters from their inception through judgment; this includes business/commercial disputes, consumer protection matters, class actions, hospitality and real estate disputes, health care and employment. As with many of the best litigators, some of his greatest accomplishments involve efficiently handling disputes without the public ever knowing.
Joshua Schneiderman is a corporate and securities partner in the Los Angeles office of Snell & Wilmer. He advises clients on a wide range of transactional matters, including mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures and public and private offerings of debt and equity securities. He also advises clients on matters related to franchising, including the establishment of new franchise systems and the expansion of existing franchise systems nationally and internationally. Schneiderman also advises public and private companies on corporate governance matters.

Schneiderman is an instrumental member of the corporate and securities practice group who was voted into the partnership after just two years with the firm. He has served as lead counsel on several highly sophisticated mergers and acquisitions and financing matters, assisting clients with access to much needed capital in turbulent financial markets. Schneiderman is also a leader in Snell & Wilmer’s Cannabis Industry Group.

Akash Sehgal is a partner and the Tax Practice leader at GHJ, a national accounting and advisory firm headquartered in Los Angeles. He rose quickly through the ranks at GHJ as he established himself as a technical expert and personable mentor to others at GHJ.

Sehgal leads the firm’s largest department, and under his leadership, the department has grown exponentially and now includes nearly 100 employees around the country. In the past year alone, the Tax Practice increased its headcount by 20 following the opening of its Northern California office. He has more than 25 years of tax experience and worked at two Big Four Firms prior to joining GHJ in 2012. In these roles, he managed large engagement teams on multiple Fortune 500 and private company restructurings. He also has deep expertise in multistate income and franchise tax, sales and use tax and credits and incentives.

Karl Seitz is a tax senior manager with CBIZ & MHM. He gives back to his clients, colleagues, and community in a number of ways. Seitz has more than 20 years of public accounting experience. His technical expertise is in international planning, succession and estate planning, tax consulting, tax return preparation, financial analysis and consulting, and mergers and acquisitions. He works with high-net-worth individuals, trusts, partnerships, corporations, S-corporations and S-corporations in a variety of industries, including architecture, entertainment, real estate, wholesale and retail.

Seitz is a member of the firm’s International Taxation Committee, as well as the Diversity & Inclusion Task Force as a member of the Building Diversity & Inclusion Network Committee. As tax professionals continue to be challenged by the frequent legislative changes, Seitz readily embraces the change. He is currently one of CBIZ & MHM’s Employee Retention Tax Credit champions.

Ali Shams has built some of the most impressive structures in each city, shaping the fabric of different communities. As senior project manager, he is currently leading the construction of what will be one of the largest cross-laminated timber buildings in Los Angeles at 843 N Spring Street. The five-story, 122,000-square-foot office and retail building is environmentally forward-thinking and is a model for sustainable office design, incorporating a rooftop PV array, bike stalls and EV charging stations, and biophilic materials inside and out.

Since joining Shawmut, the projects Shams manages have quadrupled in size and scope. As Shawmut’s West region has grown, so has Shams’ skillset and expertise in innovative construction delivery methods, as well as his business acumen in both preconstruction and construction—from budgeting and scheduling to logistics and implementation.
JING SHEN
Senior Manager
CBIZ & MHM

Jing Shen is a senior manager with CBIZ. She has nearly 20 years of experience providing tax services to her clients in a variety of industries, including manufacturing, real estate, wholesale distribution, fixed income portfolios management, professional services, and entertainment. Shen assists her clients with complex tax matters, including tax compliance, planning, and consulting services to business partnerships, C Corporations and S Corporations as well as high-net-worth individuals.

Shen participates in CBIZ’s Women Founders Network (WFN) events and has presented to WFN during the Female Founders Workshop most recently in June 2021. The workshop provided advice on legal, IP, and finance to female founders of early-stage startups. She also participates in many Asian-American networking events in the Los Angeles area to educate Asian investors and immigrants regarding the U.S. tax laws.

RASHA GERGES SHIELDS
Partner
Jones Day

Rasha Gerges Shields, an immigrant and first-generation professional, has led an exemplary career. She is a respected leader in the legal profession, a trusted advisor to companies and organizations, and a champion of diversity and racial justice. Following law school, Shields clerked with the Honorable Gary Feess in the Central District of California, and the Honorable Ferdinand Fernandez on the Ninth Circuit. She then joined Jones Day, where she excelled as an appellate attorney, arguing before the California Supreme Court, the Ninth Circuit, and the California Court of Appeal early in her career. She then served as a federal criminal prosecutor for more than seven years at the U.S. Attorney’s Office in the Central District of California. Shields returned to Jones Day approximately seven years ago, and since then, has been defending companies and executives in high-stakes civil and criminal matters, including DOJ and State Attorneys General enforcement actions.

JONATHAN SHIN
Counsel
King & Spalding

Jonathan Shin represents hospitals, laboratories, pharmacies, medical device manufacturers and other healthcare providers in arbitrations and state and federal court actions throughout the country and defends providers against government investigations of fraud and abuse. He counsels companies in matters involving managed care, fraud and abuse, e-discovery, trade secrets and intellectual property. Jonathan has been a member of and led trial and arbitration teams in matters that resulted in favorable outcomes for his clients.

Among Shin’s recent matters include his work representing Vitasity, the largest emergency physician staffing company in California, in two lawsuits regarding alleged underpayments for out-of-network emergency physician services. Contesting plans’ conduct is important because it would convolute the commercial marketplace with a Medicare-based structure. Shin is second lead counsel, and among other achievements, successfully opposed a motion for summary adjudication filed by Heritage.

MICK SHIPLEY
Partner
Kirkland & Ellis LLP

Mike Shipley is a partner in Kirkland & Ellis’ Los Angeles office. An expert at California Civil Procedure and navigating legal strategy, Mike represents clients across the U.S. and abroad in their most significant litigation ranging from securities litigation and white-collar and regulatory investigations, representing both buyers and sellers in disputes involving a broad range of claims such as shareholder litigation over fiduciary duties, post-closing disputes, valuation disputes, working capital disputes, indemnifications and representations and warranties.

Among Shipley’s recent matters has been his work representing Ovation Finance Holdings 2 LLC, Ovation Fund Management II, LLC and Banc of California in a fraud lawsuit arising from escrow company’s acts of fraud in connection with its employees’ facilitation of a roughly $200 million Ponzi scheme. In early 2022, the case settled favorably for Kirkland’s clients receiving almost $90 million in recoveries.

Congratulations to Aaron Estrada on being named to the Los Angeles Business Journal’s “Leaders of Influence: Thriving in Their 40s.”
AMNON SIEGEL
Partner
Miller Barondess, LLP

Amnon Siegel is an accomplished litigator and trial lawyer specializing in complex, high-profile cases. He has had success at every stage of litigation representing clients in a variety of commercial matters, including intellectual property, trade secrets, fraud, tortious interference, negligence, breach of contract, lender liability, breach of fiduciary duty, real estate, automotive, insurance.

Siegel has achieved top verdict recognition on both plaintiff and defense sides including a $256 million jury verdict for fraud and punitive damages on behalf of an automobile dealership group against Nissan Motor Acceptance Corporation (one of the top plaintiff verdicts in the country), and a unanimous jury verdict on behalf of a commercial bank (a top 10 defense verdict in California). Among Siegel’s other trial victories was a $15.8 million unanimous jury verdict for a large Southern California Toyota dealership group against Toyota Motor Sales.

ASHLEY M. SILBERFELD
Partner
Blank Rome LLP

Ashley M. Silberfeld, partner in Blank Rome’s Matrimonial and Family Law Practice, leverages her background in complex civil litigation to represent clients in all aspects of family law, including high-conflict custody, complicated property, and support issues. She has particular experience handling interstate and international cases involving child custody and support.

Silberfeld has been an attorney for over 20 years. She transitioned to family law to fight for the vulnerable and protect the things most important to them. Her practice has deep personal import to her, as she herself is a child of divorce; she is also a single mother (by choice) of a toddler and currently expecting her second baby via surrogacy. These experiences provide a nuanced perspective as she advises clients on matters such as obtaining surrogacy judgments for surrogacy birth, or establishing legal rights to embryos during marriage and divorce.

KATHERINE SMITH
Partner; Co-Chair, Labor and Employment Practice Group
Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP

A co-chair of Gibson Dunn’s Labor and Employment Practice Group, Katherine Smith has extensive experience representing employers in individual, representative and class action litigation at both the trial court and appellate level. In addition to her busy litigation practice, Smith is in demand by clients needing guidance with respect to nearly all aspects of employment law, including government investigations, enforcement of non-solicitation and non-competition covenants, and independent contractor/common law employee status.

Among Smith’s recent achievements has been her work representing Riot Games in a putative class and PAGA action; and successfully compelling a plaintiff’s individual PAGA claim against Lowe’s Home Centers, LLC to arbitration and obtaining dismissal of the representative claim following the Supreme Court’s precedent-setting Viking River decision.

LOU SOKOLOVSKY
CEO
Opus Connect

Lou Sokolovskiy is a serial entrepreneur with extensive private equity transaction experience who is known for connecting leaders in the finance arena. He is the founder of multiple entrepreneurial ventures, including Opus Connect, a professional networking organization for M&A professionals. Sokolovskiy invested $500 into founding Opus Connect and within three months he made his first hire. Opus Connect is now a seven-figure company with hundreds of members that facilitates thousands of deals.

Sokolovskiy attributes his success to his resilient attitude (a silver lining of his challenging early years) and his desire to pay it forward. When COVID ransacked the world in 2020, many of Opus Connect’s competitors struggled and some even closed their doors for good. But Sokolovskiy was determined to succeed. Opus actually increased its revenues during the pandemic, grew its team, and boasted its highest revenue year ever in 2021.

With more than 17 years of experience, Song specializes in financial statement audits and financial reporting for both private and publicly held companies. She works closely with clients in a variety of industries, including real estate, manufacturing and distribution, and technology.

As a core member of BPM’s Real Estate Industry Group, Song handles a substantial portfolio of real estate engagements, including real estate funds, residential and commercial developers, owner-operators, and property managers. Song started her career with KPMG. She was previously a principal in commercial real estate assets and related technology.

For over 20 years Al Stemp has represented some of the most recognized real estate investors in the industry. Currently, Stemp represents a diverse group of LA-based and national clients in connection with a broad range of real estate transactions, including advising private equity investors and REIT clients in structuring and negotiating partnership and joint venture agreements for all types of investments in commercial real estate assets and related financing (including mortgage, mezzanine and preferred equity structures), acquisition and disposition transactions.

Stemp frequently serves as real estate counsel to Ares Management Corporation, one of Los Angeles’ most well-known asset managers with over $341 billion in assets under management, in connection with corporate transactions and acts as lead transaction counsel for various real estate joint-venture investments made by Ares’ private real estate funds. Stemp led Hudson Pacific Properties’ acquisition of a 75% interest in Los Angeles’ iconic Westside Pavilion Mall.

After Zachary Streit launched real estate capital advisory firm WAY Capital with partner Malcolm Davies early this year, the WAY team has arranged over $1.03 billion in financings across the U.S., equaling more than $1.5 billion in capitalizations. WAY Capital provides sophisticated financing solutions by leveraging its expansive capital network, proprietary ‘Deal Champion’ strategy and 100% dedicated team personnel. This approach allows the firm to act as its client’s outsourced CFO organization to aid in the growth of its platforms.

In less than a year, Streit and his partners have already expanded WAY Capital’s operations by establishing a second office in Nashville, Tennessee, supporting the firm’s nationwide focus and existing build-for-rent (BFR) development tracts, multifamily and preferred equity structures, acquisition and disposition transactions. The WAY team has arranged over $1.05 billion in financings across the U.S., equaling more than $11 billion in liability.

Situated in Los Angeles’ iconic Westside Pavilion Mall, Stemp has worked to ease the housing crisis. For over 20 years, Al Stemp has represented some of the most recognized real estate investors in the industry. Currently, Stemp represents a diverse group of LA-based and national clients in connection with a broad range of real estate transactions, including advising private equity investors and REIT clients in structuring and negotiating partnership and joint venture agreements for all types of investments in commercial real estate assets and related financing (including mortgage, mezzanine and preferred equity structures), acquisition and disposition transactions.

KENNETH TRUJILLO-JAMISON
Partner
Willenken LLP

Kenneth Trujillo-Jamison is a result-driven litigator who leverages his sharply honed analytical and strategic skills to efficiently handle his clients’ most complex and challenging matters. He consistently delivers outstanding results for his clients and was promoted to partner in January 2022.

Trujillo-Jamison’s practice focuses on complex commercial litigation, including intellectual property, copyright, trademark and trade dress, class action defense, and entertainment-related disputes. He is a frequent lecturer on timely legal topics and has received several industry recognitions.

He has achieved many successes in the courtroom, including recently playing a key role in achieving a successful outcome in an expedited trial in Delaware Chancery Court for firm client AbbVie. As a member of AbbVie’s 100%-diverse trial team in “one of the five big healthcare lawsuits” of 2020, Trujillo-Jamison helped convince the Delaware Chancery Court to find Takeda Pharmaceutical Co. liable for breach of contract.

DAN TIMMONS
Market Executive
Bank of America

Daniel M. Timmons is responsible for leading the Los Angeles Global Commercial Banking Group for Bank of America, which includes the specialized Entertainment Industries Group that focuses on global film, television, music and talent agencies. He leads a team of 14 senior relationship bankers responsible for managing advisory, capital raising, banking, treasury, liquidity and rates and currencies exposure as part of corporate and investment banking for public and privately held clients with revenues starting at $50 million to several billion. Timmons’ team has a book of business of over $2 billion, serving clients that represent some of the largest Los Angeles-based businesses and brands.

Timmons’ tenure with Bank of America spans 20 years, getting his start in New York providing relationship banking to large-cap media and entertainment companies. In 2022, his team has grown market revenue and loans in excess of 15% with comparable growth in deposits.

SHAWN THOMAS
Partner
Sanders Roberts LLP

Shawn Thomas is currently a partner at Sanders Roberts LLP. He started his career in 2008 at Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman in New York, where he was an associate for seven years. Thomas has built a successful litigation and trial practice in Los Angeles and New York, two of the nation’s most competitive and cutting-edge legal markets.

Over the last several years, Thomas has become go-to litigation counsel on a variety of high-stakes matters for several public entities. In 2019, he successfully defended one large Southern California municipality in an extremely high stakes, high profile employment litigation. After a month-long trial the jury returned a unanimous verdict in favor of the defense on all causes of action. Earlier this year, the Court of Appeal upheld that judgment on appeal. Since then, he has racked up additional wins for a variety of public and private clients.

DAVID A. THOMAS
Partner, Insurance Recovery
Blank Rome LLP

In an era in which individuals, businesses, and institutions rely heavily on their insurance policies to cover losses due to disasters, pandemics, cyber-attacks, business litigation, and more, Dave Thomas is a fierce advocate for policyholders.

Thomas counsels and litigates on behalf of policyholders alone in a diverse array of commercial insurance lines, including cybersecurity and privacy, commercial general liability, umbrella, P&I, financial institution bonds, bankers professional liability, employment practices liability, and first-party property and business interruption. He also counsels and represents individual property owners in high-value insurance claims such as natural disasters. In addition, Thomas has represented individual claimants harmed by fraudulent and unfair practices in the sale of life and health insurance products and insurance-related transactions. He has an impressive resume of counseling, out-of-court settlement, and litigation.

Congratulations to Jessica Babrick for being selected to the Los Angeles Business Journal’s “Leaders of Influence: Thriving in Their 40s.” It is an honor to work with you, and we are proud of your accomplishments.

In 2004 he transitioned to Global Commercial Banking and prior to joining the Business Banking Leadership team in Los Angeles, Webb was a senior relationship manager/team lead for Middle Market Banking where his responsibilities included providing financial advice and strategic integrated solutions to commercial businesses with annual revenues generally between $50 million and $2 billion located throughout Southern California.

Nichol Whiteman is the chief executive officer of the award-winning Los Angeles Dodgers Foundation (LADF). Under Whiteman’s leadership, LADF tackles the most pressing problems facing Los Angeles with a mission to improve education, health care, homelessness and social justice for all Angelenos.

Whiteman's community involvement is the cornerstone of her success. Under her leadership, the Foundation completed its 50th Dodgers Dreamfield, created a benefit gala, and increased fundraising by 1,000% with Whiteman at the helm. Whiteman also advocates for LADF to be a strong charitable partner for nonprofits within the Los Angeles community through strategic grant making that builds capacity and reach. Collectively, Whiteman has cultivated partnerships that have resulted in more than $32 million in community investment in the form of direct programs and grant making, impacting over 2.3 million children.
